Developed recreation sites on Coconino NF exempt from fire restrictions

Flagstaff, Ariz., June 15, 2016, For Immediate Release — Certain developed recreation sites on the Coconino National Forest are exempt from fire restrictions, which began today at 8 a.m. across the forest.

Under the restrictions, campfires, charcoal, coal and wood stoves are not allowed throughout the forest—unless in a developed recreation site. However, fires are never advised anywhere during a Red Flag Warning such as was issued today by the National Weather Service.

The following are all the developed recreation sites on the Coconino NF which are exempt from fire restrictions:

On the Flagstaff Ranger District (listed in alphabetical order):

- Ashurst Lake Campground
- Bonito Campground
- Canyon Vista Campground
- Dairy Springs Campground
- Double Springs Campground
- Forked Pine Campground
- Flagstaff Nordic Center Lodge
