A Drying Trend is in the Forecast

Wednesday, July 27, 2016

Fire: Fuller Fire
Acres: 14,385
Cause: Lightning
Total Personnel: 270

Completion: 38%
Start Date: June 29, 2016
Location: Point Imperial, N. Rim Grand Canyon NP
Fuels/Topography: Timber, grass, rugged terrain

Firefighters continue mop-up operations along the southern perimeter of the fire while making progress with strengthening the contingency fire lines along Forest Roads 610 and 611. Yesterday, moisture was received over parts of the fire which helped to moderate fire behavior. The most active part of the fire continues to be on the west flank in Fuller Canyon outside of the Outlet Fire scar area. We expect a chance of rain today with a drying trend for the remainder of the week. Fire resources will assist with any new fire starts within the Grand Canyon National Park and Kaibab National Forest North Zone area.
